WALKING AROUND WITH HIS THROAT CUT.

THE MAN TELLS CONFLICTING STORIES -

THE WOUND SELF-INFLICTED? A German, fifty years old, who was bleeding from deep gash in his throat, rang the bell of a physician's office in Fifty-third-st., a few doors east of Third-ave., about 2 a. m. yesterday. The servant who answere the ring saw the blood on the man's shirt-front and told him to go to the police station in East Fiftyfirst-st. He started in that direction, but changed his mind and began to walk toward Second-ave. Be-fore he had gone many steps he was met by Policeman McDermott. The policeman seated him on a stone step and ran to the elevated railroad station in Third-ave, to send for an ambulance. Before the ambulance arrived the German was able to talk a little in a hearse whisper, the wound in his throat having severed the windpipe far enough to make louder speech impossible. He said that he was William Rind, of No. 240 East Fifty fifth-st., and that his throat had been cut by two men who had attacked him on his way home.

Rind was taken to Bellevue Hespital and later in the day he wrote some statements concerning his injury. They were so improbable that Detective Cuff came to the conclusion that Rind had cut his own throat. His first story was that he lay in the street after being wounded until a few minutes before the policeman found him, but Detective Cuff said that five hours was too long a time in which a wounded man could escape notice in an East Side street. surgeons at the hospital said they thought that Rind's wound was self-inflicted. Rind buried his first wife about six months ago. She was a frugal weman, a few years older than her husband, and she had saved up several hundred dollars in a bank. Before she married Rind she had a daughter, who is still living ried Rind she had a daughter, who is still livin

A TREASURE CHEST SEIZED.

VALUABLE CARPETS AND PICTURES HELD BY THE AUTHORITIES ON A TELEGRAM FROM SPAIN.

A few days ago the Spanish Consul received eipher dispatch from Madrid saying that Pedro Bosch, a museum proprietor in that city, had been obbed about ten weeks ago of a number of oil paint ings, some antique silverware and other goods, and that it was believed that the thieves had come to this The matter was reported to the Special Treasury Agent's bureau at the Custom House, and bree men were traced who were trying to dispose of some of the pictures, and who had left a trunk in the warehouse under bond on its passage to Cuba. They were Joaquin Ortis, Enleterio Pavon, and another, who had arrived here on the French Line steamship La Bourgogne, on December 22.* Ortiz represented himself as the owner of the trunk. The total value of the articles is $15,000.

The trunk was sent to the Barge Office pesterday, and in it were found the following: One velvet cover embroidered with silk, ten feet square; one cover of green satin embroidered with silver; one red velvet standard embroidered w broidered in gold, in the sixteenth century style; tvory figure of the Virgin, about six inches high, and one about twelve inches high; one portiere of blue relvet embroidered in gold and silver, and one large

Among the paintings were one of Bishop Frey Miguel Fernandez, by Goya; one of the "Customs of Madrid," by Hispalete; "The Ancient Gate," "Bacchanal," by Panzini; a small picture of "San Mariano," by Fortuni; also several other paintings of religious subjects, and carpets and rugs embroidered with silk and gold and silver. The men are under arrest until an identification of the goods can be absolutely established.

MANAGER MUTBIE TALKS DEPIANTLY. Manager Mutrie yesterday signed Elwood O. Wagen-hurst to play with the New-York baseball club. Wagenhurst is the ex-captain of the Princeton baseball and feotball teams and is considered a young player of great promise. He is a good baserunner and played with the Philadelphia che in the early part of ast season, but was released to reduce expe He is twenty-three years old, five feet eleven inches high, and weighs 165 pounds. He is now training the nine of the University of Pennsylvania. By securing Wagenhurst the local club fortifies itself in case Ward goes to the Washington club. Mutrie s confident that the collegian will be able to play shortstop as well or almost as well as Ward.

Whether Mutrie has any right to sign the player is a question. At the recent League meeting such cases as this were especially attended to. As the cule is generally interpreted President Young, of the League, must sign all new players engaged after December 15. Manager Mutrie was surprised when this side of the question was presented and said: "I this side of the question was presented and said: "I have received no official notice from President Young not to sign players and until I do shall continue to sign what men I want. How can President Young classify a player when he comes from a college league! There were several managers after the player and as we wanted him, I signed him, and I will stand the consequences.

David Orr, last season with the Brooklyn club, yesterday signed to play with the Columbus nine. He will cover first base as he did in Brooklyn.

OAKEY A. JOHNSON EXONERATED.

Oakey A. Johnson, of Peckskill, about three weeks ago was arrested in Elmira, where he was visiting an aunt, on the complaint of a woman who charged him with assaulting her. The case was thoroughly investigated by the Grand Jury, and as it was discovered that the wofnan had been entirely mistaken in the identity of the person against whom she made the complaint, Mr. Johnson was honorably discharged. Mr. Johnson, at the time of his arrest was in a book store, and the complainant, seeing him through the door, supposed him to be her as-satiant, and directed a policeman to arrest him. The circumstance of the arrest was the occasion of a great deal of annoyance to Mr. Johnson and his friends. He is a graduate of Rutgers College and Johns Hopkins University, and is well known in New-Jersey and Peekskill.

HUNTING FOR A PROMINENT MASON. The police are making a thorough search for Le Roy F. Shepard, a prominent Mason of Utica, who disappeared on January 7 and was traced to New-York. He is about forty-five years old, five feet nine inches high, weighs about 175 pounds, and has short, while hair and dark mustache. On his watch chain was a Knight Templar charm. No reason is known for his leaving home, and it is feared that he is insane.

HE PREFERS LUDLOW STREET JAIL. William J. Irwin, a young resident of Orange, N. J., had a quarrel with Henry S. Hiscock in 1885 at No. 229 East One-hundred-and-twenty-seventh-st. Hiscock began a civil suit and obtained a judgment for 87,500 against Mr. Irwin. After the civil suit was decided the complainant went before the Grand Jury, and Irwin was indicted a few weeks ago. A request that Irwin come to this city to give ball in the crim-inal case was sent to Orango, and Irwin and his father came to this city to give ball. Deputy sheriffs with orders of arrest in the suit of Mr. Hiscock were at eorge A. Merrison, president; Horace J. Fairchild the District-Atterney's office, and as soon as Irwin gave ball on the criminal charge he was arrested in the civil suit. He declared that he would stay in Ex-Judge Noah Davis will speak to college students

DECORATIONS FOR THE INAUGURAL BALL. F. Aldridge, a Brooklyn decorator, is actively pre-aring for the decorations to be placed in the Pensie Building in Washington on the occasion of the in-augural ball. He secured the contract over about fifty competitors and will receive $5,000. A similar sum will be paid the floral decorator. The building is 316 feet by 116 feet, and has three galleries. On the fronts of these will be festoons of flags and between them silver plated armor on plush backgrounds, and coats of arms of the States, trimmed with flags. On each of the supporting columns will be placed projecting flags, six feet by four feet six inches, of satin, embroidered at a cost of $50 each, and there will be about 150 of them. The bases of the columns will have royal plush dados eight feet high and will have royal plush dados eight feet high and shields and other decorations above. There will be canopies of bunting suspended from the ceiling and a high floral Ship of State and two liberty bells, fifteen feet in diameter. Forfraits of Harrison and fitteen feet in diameter. Forfraits of Harrison and Morton will adorn the ends of the room. It is ex-pected that the decorations will be far finer than at any preceding National ball. MARRIED ON HER DEATH-BED.

Kitty A. Cody, a young woman, was married on Tuesday, while on her death bed, at No. 124 Flatbushve., to Frank Dudgeon, age twenty-eight, of Locust Valley, L. I. She died the same night. Her fatal liness was due to an unlawful operation, which it is claimed she per formed herself. The young woman belonged in Locust Valley, but went to Brooklyn a forthight ago. On Tuesday Dudgeon persuaded her to marry him, as it was evident she was about to die, and Dr. A. B. Kendig was induced by a misrepresentation of the circumstances, to perform the ceremony. A searching investigation will be made by the Coroner.

RETAIL GROCERS HAVE A BALL. The eighth annual reception and ball of the Brook-lyn Retail Grocers' Association was given last evening in the Palace Rink in Clermont-ave. About 3,000 persons were present and dancing began at 10:30 and continued several hours. All the leading grocers of the city were present.

In the suit brought by Peter All, a cornet player, to recover $500 from John Burrill, of the Novelty Air Ship Company, a scaled vertilet was given yesterday. All claims to have been engaged for the season to play for the company at $50 a week, but the air-ship falled to work and Mr. All only played two days and get $25. He brought suit for the balance. The defendants denied a contract except from week to week.

A LONG-LOST BROTHER FOUND.

OHN MCCLASKEY WILL VISIT HIM OUT WEST-THEY HAVE NOT MET SINCE THE WAR. When John McClaskey went to the post office of Red Bank, N. J., on Wednesday night, he received a letter from his brother Daniel, whom he had not seen for twenty five years and who was supposed to be The McClaskey family is one of Monmouth County, and in 1852 Daniel married Miss Majory Dangler, of Eatontown, and removed to Ohio, where he engaged in farming. When Lincoln called for troops in 1861 he collisted in an Ohio regiment for three years, and when discharged he re-enlisted for

In 1862 John McClaskey enlisted in the 14th New-Jersey and served until the close of the Robellion. Just before the battle of Cedar Mountain the Newersey regiment was guarding a baggage train when an Ohio regiment marched by, and John McClaskoy recognized among the Ohio soldiers his brother Daniel, whom he had not seen in twelve years. The two brothers exchanged greetings, and in the fight which opened an hour afterward both the Ohio and Now-Jersey regiments suffered severely, and each brother took it for granted that the other had been killed, and as the regiments belonged to different army corps they did not

At the close of the war John returned to his home in Red Bank, where he has since lived. The letter which he received last night said that Daniel had also gone through the war unstathed and that after returning to Ohio he said out his farm and moved to Union City. Ind., where he is rich and the owner of 400 acres of land. The letter said that his wife was living, and that they had two boys and one girl. John McClaskey has sent an answer to the letter and, with his wife, expects to pay a visit to his long-lost brother sometime in February.

HUTTON PARK SOLD AT AUCTION.

Hutten Park, the home of the Essex County ountry Club, in West Orange, N. J., was sold at uction yesterday afternoon, under the terms of the will of Benjamin H. Hutton, which provided that the entire estate should be sold and divided five years after his death. The property embraces about eightvi-five acres. It was offered in nineteen parcels. The first that was put up was the old mansion, with stables, greenhouses, lakes, etc. The bidding started at $15,000 and ran up to $31,000, at which price it at $15,000 and ran up to $31,000, at which price it was knocked down to William R. Button, who told a Tribune reporter that he bought it in the interest of one of the heirs. The rest of the property was, with a single exception, knocked down to Edward J. Hancey, a lawyer of this city. He admitted that the heirs of the estate were interested in the purchase. The sale was apparently a matter of form to establish a basis of values on which to divide the profits. Some feeling was manifested among the fifty or more lawyers who were present to endeavor to secure bargains. Mr. Hancey promptly advanced $50 to $100 on every bid that was made until he secured the property. The Country Club was not represented. Their lease runs until next December and then will undoubtedly be renewed. The sale was $121.500.

escaped from the house by jumping out of a window. He ran up the mountains and disappeared. Members of his family and some of the neighbors searched the mountain throughout the night but found no trace of the insane man. Yesterday he returned home in an almost exhausted condition. His clothing was wet, indicating that he had waded through the ponds and streams about the mountains. His relatives fear that he will take his life, as he has already made one attempt to shoot himself with a revolver. His mind became affected by the death of his wife. ANOTHER MANDAMUS FOR MAYOR GLEASON.

Ex-Assemblyman James S. Allen, counsel for the Long Island Railroad, served Mayor Gleason, of Long Island City, last night with another mandamus re-straining him from further interfering with any of the railroad property. The Mayor, since his latest victory over the railroad company, has announced his intentions of clearing other streets that he claims are monopolized by the corporation. The railroad company officials evidently were warned of the Mayor's intention, and as a precaution, applied to Judge Bartlett for the mandamus that was issued yesterday. Toe communication sent to Superintendent I. D. Barton, of the munication sent to Superintendent 1. D. Barton, of the railroad, by the Mayor on Tuesday, to clear Front-st., had good effect. Bright and early yesterday morning between Third and Fourth sts., in Front-st., a gang of railroad laborers were hard at work removing the remnants left by the Mayor in his last enslaught upon railroad property in his effort to make the street pass-

A SEIZURE OF VALUABLE SILVERWARE. Counsellors Russ and Hoppenheimer, acting for number of wholesale crockery dealers in this city, a tew days ago seized two large cases of silverware and lewelry, on the Bremen Steamship Company's pier Hoboken. It is alleged that the goods were obtained by fraud by a man who described himself as A. M. Ebert and said he was the proprietor of the Crystal Palace Jewelry Manufacturing Company, of Ohio. The fact of the seizure was not made public in the hope that the alleged swindler might make his appearan and be arrested. About the holidays Ebert purchase goods from several New-York firms among who were Strauss & Sons, J. M. Young & Co., H. Steine were strains & sons, J. 3. Tolling & Co. His Durchases, it is said, amounted to about $70,000 in all. Thirty-eight cases were shipped from a small rown in Ohio to Ebert's wife in London, but were intercepted and seized. Ebert's house was searched and a quantity of the goods recovered. Ebert has disappeared and it is thought that he is in Canada.

JERSEY CITY.

$150 from the Prudential Insurance Company was tried in the First District Court before Judge Rouglas yesterday. Mrs. Costello lent Michael Flanagan about a year ago. He had his life insured for $150, Mrs. Costello agreeing to pay the premium. Flanagan died last December, but the company refused to pay the insurance on the ground that Planagan had left a wife and child. The policy said that the amount insured was for burfal purposes, and the company feared that the widow might call upon it for payment. The company is willing to pay the amount, but wants to know who is legally entitled to it. Judge Douglas reserved his decision.

Cape Ulsters have come to stay. No use talking them down by saying that "Only truckmen wear them, as did one prominent and respectable clothing house who happened not to provide a stock. It's amusing, too, to notice how the imitators have all caught on to the name "Lord Chumley," given by us to our Black Thibet Cape Coats. We have had to keep cutting Cape

Ulsters all through the season and the last came from the work-room yesterday. "Lord Chumley" still rules supreme with the fashionable trade. The long Cape, handsome draping and ample skirt are characteristic features not as easily copied as the name. We have a new lot of Oxford Frieze Cape Ulsters at same price ($25) that strongly appeal to good taste and utility. Other styles, $18 and $20.
